Re: Assistance to Women Evacuees.

- - - -

In Bangalore City, there is an Evacuee Committee to look after the requirements of the evacuees from outside. So far as the matter referred to in the cut motion is concerned, no scheme to have a colony established separately providing for educational facilities have yet been thought of or considered. Schemes are on hand for looking after the population migrating from populous areas during a panic. This scheme provides for taking care of the evacuees temporarily till they are able to move out to safer places.

Reception to Evacuees.

Comforts provided on arrival.

Two members of the Bangalore City Evacuees Committee, and two officials specially deputed for the purpose, meet all trains coming into Bangalore and look out for any evacuees that may arrive. A special register has been opened for entering the names of all evacuees who need assistance of any kind. So far, 134 evacuees have been registered and assisted. People in need of accommodation are put up in the local Choultries taken over for this purpose. Attempts are being made to mobilise private charity for assisting the evacuees.

Sixty seven pallas of rice, ~~xxxx~~ two pallas and forty seers of ragi and three maunds of groundnut oil have been collected and stored in the Old Taluk Treasury Strong Room.

Vessels that may suffice to cook food for about 30 persons at a time have been bought and stored in Polepalli Subbiah Setty's Choultry and are issued for the use of the evacuees when necessary. Should an emergency arise necessitating mass-feeding big vessels available in charitable institutions would have to be used and a survey of such vessels has been made.

Free Railway passes for admission to the Railway platform to the members of the Evacuees Committee and to the officials specially deputed for this purpose have also been provided in order to facilitate their work.
